For us, business is all about connections.

Get qualified risks delivered directly to your underwriters from producers, anywhere in the country, instantly and automatically.

BrokerBid.com is unlike any website or software program in the world and is designed specifically for the commercial insurance market. Our business model is simple, we help underwriters see more submissions that match a carrier's appetite and we help connect brokers to the correct underwriter that can write their business, all through a single system that requires no integration.

Insurance carriers and agencies are looking for ways to increase the number of qualified leads and written business. BrokerBid.com is the insurance catalyst for which the commercial insurance industry has been waiting.

We do not charge a setup fee and there is no cost per user fee. There is no additional software to purchase or integrate, and most importantly there is no risk to carriers or producers.

Think about it, your company's underwriters receiving qualified risks from producers in their territory, automatically! And it only takes a few minutes to set your company up and make this a reality.

Account setup is free and takes less than 5 minutes.
